

Terms of Use

General website terms

Revision: September 30, 2026

About these terms

These terms govern use of the FISO Door website (www.fisodoor.com). "FISO," "we," and "us" refer to FISO Door. By using this website, you agree to these terms to the extent permitted by applicable law. If you do not agree, please stop using the website.

Product information and quotations

The website provides general information about our products and services. Images, dimensions, finishes, availability and specifications are illustrative and may change. Confirm the exact product configuration, applicable approvals, pricing, freight and delivery schedule with FISO before ordering. A quotation request is not an order acceptance. Website information does not replace approved drawings, installation instructions or project specifications.

Orders and warranty

Purchases are governed by the accepted quotation, purchase order acknowledgment and any other written agreement applicable to the order. If those documents conflict with these website terms, the written order agreement controls for that purchase. Product coverage is described in the FISO Limited Warranty and any product-specific written warranty. These terms do not reduce existing contractual or statutory rights.

Appropriate use

Use the website lawfully. Do not interfere with its operation, introduce malicious software, attempt unauthorized access, scrape personal information, impersonate others or submit unlawful or infringing content. You are responsible for the accuracy of information you provide. Do not send passwords, payment card details or other sensitive personal information through general inquiry forms.

Intellectual property

Website text, photographs, graphics, logos and other materials belong to FISO or their respective owners. You may view, download and print materials for evaluating or using our products. Other reproduction, redistribution or commercial use requires permission from the relevant owner. Third-party names and marks remain the property of their owners.

Links and website availability

Links to third-party websites or documents are provided for convenience. Their owners control their content and practices. We do not guarantee uninterrupted access or that all website content is complete or free from errors. We may update, suspend or remove website content as needed.

Responsibility and applicable rights

To the extent permitted by law, the website is provided on an “as available” basis. FISO is not responsible for losses caused solely by reliance on general website information without confirming the relevant order or project requirements. Nothing in these terms excludes liability or rights that cannot lawfully be excluded, including applicable consumer protections.

Privacy, updates and contact

Our Privacy Policy explains how information received through the website is handled. We may revise these terms and will identify the revision date on the current version. Changes apply to future website use and do not retroactively alter accepted orders. Questions: Info@fisodoor.com or 443.952.2108.
